

TAMRO WEB ANALYSIS (TWA) LIGHT

Is the company you work for not that big? Then you may not need the full version of the TWA information system. One good idea instead could be TWA Light, which focuses on stock levels and sales.

SMALL IS BEAUTIFUL

Tamro Web Analysis Light is an internet-based information system specially designed for the smaller company. Here, for instance, you can see if a specific product is in stock, or how sales are going in different districts. Which makes TWA Light a very useful tool for marketing and sales managers, and consultants.

Analyse as you like

As long as you have access to the internet, you can log in and access fresh figures in terms of stock balances and sales statistics anytime. Then you can analyse that information further in many dimensions.

Flexible system

It's all extremely flexible, just like the full-scale version. You can decide whether to present analyses as tables or graphs, analyse online, export to Excel or PDF, print out hard copies or save as links. So you get the maximum out of the system.
